Attention Brothers – Council Going “Green”

The Council would like all brothers who have a computer and internet access to get their newsletters electronically. Brothers who do not have a computer will still be able to get a hard copy of the newsletter mailed to them.

The Council's website (www.kofc6100.org) has a link that contains the monthly newsletter from July 2009 to the latest newsletter in pdf format. The newest newsletter will be posted on the website by the first weekend of the month. Last month 210 newsletters were mailed, 10 above the minimum needed for bulk mailing rates. Thus far one hundred brothers have informed me that they will get their newsletter from our website or by mail. That leaves approximately 200 members who haven't informed me how they want to receive the newsletter. Please send your preference to: Gregg Buckalew, P.O. Box 157, Tranquility, NJ 07879; e-mail address: buckalew@ptd.net; or telephone (908-852-9184).

Grand Knight's Report

Brothers,

When I was a senior in high school I boarded a bus with several of my classmates bound for Washington for the Right to Life March. As most 17 year olds would do, we waited for the opportune moment to be conveniently separated from the group and turn the day into visiting the Smithsonian and other warm buildings. It was very obvious that we had no concept of the meaning of why the hundreds of thousands of people were gathered.

Thirty four years later I boarded a bus with several of my brothers from Council 6100 bound for Washington for the Right to Life March. This time I had no intention of being separated from the group and taking in the sights. As we stood in the pouring rain and mud listening to the speakers at the rally, I looked around and was amazed by the number of young people there. The groups of these younger adults seemed to be "color coded" by distinct articles of clothing such as hats or t-shirts which portrayed unity. I overheard one young woman say to her friend that they should blow this off and take in some sights. I was waiting to see the two of them disappear, when the other young woman turned to her friend and said she was here for a reason and that if she thought this was a pleasure trip then you're on your own.

Our group was in the middle of the march. When we reached the top of the hill on Constitution Avenue we looked back and all we could see was a sea of people behind us. It was a massive statement of our worthy cause of protecting the unborn. Yet when I got home that evening I tried to find some information on the main stream media websites and pretty much found little to no coverage of this massive rally for life. Though this coverage was negligible at best, the message is resonating; most polls now show the trend of the people in this country is that more and more people across the country are pro-life. Unfortunately our governing bodies are not paying attention.

I want to thank Brother Gerry Kaufhold for being Council 6100's champion of life. Each year he coordinates the bus trip, Baby Bottle Boomerang and other Pro-Life initiatives. I also ask that you continue to pray that the moral compass of our country points in a direction that protects life.

PS---- we could always use a few more Brothers at Bingo....

Vivat Jesus!

My Dear Brother Knights,

Finding Joy in Ordinary Time

A lyricist once wrote that December is "the most wonderful time of the year." Well, maybe. But it is this lyric that occurs to me when I think about the month of February, my most wonderful time of the year. The Presidents' Birthday weekend has become the occasion of a family reunion. Black History Month provides opportunities to honor and recommit to achieving diversity.

Alas, I have not been asked to reflect on my favorite things here. Rather, I have been asked to reflect on the power and grace of liturgy and scripture and how they connect to daily life. Yet isn't that precisely our frequent challenge: to allow the liturgy and the word to penetrate our hearts and form our lives not only when we gather as church, but in the favorite and ordinary events that give substance to our days?

The Gospels for these Sundays of Ordinary Time are Mark's early accounts of healing miracles. Simon's mother-in-law is sick, and the disciples implore Jesus to make her well. A leper approaches Jesus and says, "If you wish, you can make me clean." Upon Jesus' return to Capernaum, so many people gather in his home that friends have to lower a paralytic through an opening in the roof so that Jesus can heal him. In each case, Jesus heals the unfortunate, and miracles come to life in front of the crowds.

Simon's mother-in-law gets up and waits on the disciples, visible proof of Jesus' power to heal. The leper is made clean and gleefully abandons Jesus' directive to keep it to himself as he publicizes the miracle far and wide. The paralytic picks up his mat and walks home, leaving the gathered crowd astounded. To be sure, these Gospels are about the healing power of Jesus. But in this moment, I am aware of something else: the crowds that followed Jesus wherever he went.

Mark writes that because of the crowds it was impossible for Jesus to openly enter a town or village. He would remain on the outskirts rather than come to the center of a community. Yet people kept seeking him no matter where he was. It was a big enough issue, according to Mark's Gospel, that in order to get away, Jesus got up early to find a deserted place to pray. Even then, the disciples had to run him down to tell him people were looking for him. And so many people gathered in his home when he was there that the door was blocked and people could not get in.

What was it that made Jesus so irresistible? We cannot absolutely answer that question, but it is good to think about what Jesus was like, and why people were so intent on being with him. He was a miracle worker, that is true, and people did come seeking miracles. But he was not the only wonder worker of his time. So it seems to me that there must have been something else. I suspect there was a goodness and a sense of joy about Jesus that engaged minds and hearts and compelled the crowds to follow him.

I invite you to imagine sitting among those crowds. Observe Jesus' interaction with them and the disciples. Watch him listen to the disciples and talk to Simon's mother-in-law. Hold your breath as he heals the leper. Note his small smile as the paralytic walks toward home. Feel the joy.

All of us long for his joy that sustains us in difficult times, in moments of triumph and even in the midst of the mundane. For with that joy we are more apt to see the presence of God and the miracles that surround us in the ordinary and extraordinary events of life: in the busyness of a day when we listen to the Presence within; in the midst of conflict when we see the other's need; in the distraction of worry about job, children or money when we trust we are never truly alone.

And more, in the accomplishments of those who overcame the divisions of race; in the miracle of birth that birthdays celebrate. Embracing his joy, we might say, makes each day the most wonderful time of the year.

Yours in Christ, your chaplain

March for Life Bus Trip to Washington, DC

On Monday January 23, 2012, the Knights of Columbus Fr. Joseph A. Cassidy Council 6100 joined thousands of abortion opponents who marched to the Supreme Court on Monday to mark the 39th anniversary of the Roe v. Wade decision legalizing abortion, and supportive lawmakers urged them to further their cause by working to defeat President Barack Obama in the fall.

The "March for Life" has been held every year since 1974, a year after the landmark Supreme Court ruling. It's consistently one of the largest protests of the year in Washington, although soggy, chilly conditions likely kept this year's numbers down a bit.

House Speaker John Boehner addressed the group, reminding those gathered on the muddy National Mall that he's one of 12 children. "I'm sure it wasn't easy for our mother to have 12 of us, but I'm glad we're all here," the Republican lawmaker said. "I've never considered being pro-life a label or a political position. It's just who I am."

Several dozen members of Congress addressed the rally and were cheered by participants, many of whom carried signs reading "I Vote Pro-Life First," "Defund Planned Parenthood” and “Face It ... Abortion Kills a Person.” Signs endorsing Republican presidential contenders were less ubiquitous, although some in the crowd favored Rick Santorum and Ron Paul, both favorites of conservative Christians.

Rep. Chris Smith, R-N.J., urged anti-abortion voters to unite behind the eventual GOP nominee. “We don’t have the luxury of disunity or nominee disappointment or apathy,” Smith said. “For the sake of the innocent, failure to unite is not an option.”

Republican frontrunner Mitt Romney has said he wants to see Roe v. Wade overturned. But Janet Hoven, 55, of Chester, N.J., said he still needed to do more to court anti-abortion activists. “He’s going to have to come out very strong for life. I certainly will pray that he will,” said Hoven, a Romney supporter.

Carolee Zentkovich, 68, of Columbia Station, Ohio, said she supports Santorum but would gladly vote for Romney in the hopes of getting Obama out of office. Americans remain strongly divided on abortion.

A Gallup poll last year showed that 49 percent of respondents identified themselves as “pro-choice,” while 45 percent called themselves “pro-life.” The same survey found that 50 percent of Americans believe abortion should be legal under some circumstances, 27 percent said it should be legal in all cases and 22 percent said it should always be illegal.

Nancy Keenan, president of NARAL Pro-Choice America, said in a statement that politicians supporting the March for Life were ignoring more pressing issues. “Anti-choice politicians and their allies promised to focus on creating jobs, yet they are attacking a woman’s right to choose at near-record levels,” Keenan said. “This extreme agenda is out of touch with our country’s values and priorities.”

Some marchers said opposition to abortion transcends partisan politics. “Eight years ago, when George W. Bush was president, we were still out here,” said Michael Tober, 36, of Muskegon, Mich. “It’s not a Republican thing; it’s not a Democrat thing. It’s a human thing.”

Invitation to Pray With Fellow Brothers and Their Families

Brothers - All are invited to pray Evening Prayer in the Daily Chapel at 7:00 p.m. each Sunday. This time of prayer and meditation is only for a half-hour. Evening Prayer is part of the Liturgy of the Hours, also known as the Divine Office. In the Liturgy of the Hours, the Church fulfills Jesus' command to "pray always" (Luke 18:1; see also 1 Thessalonians 5:17). Through this prayer, the people of God sanctify the day by continual praise of God and prayers of intercession for the needs of the world.

2011 Football Mania Fundraiser Wrap Up!

Another very successful year, thank you to all participating brothers, friends and family. For those of you who didn't participate here's what you missed: We had 20 brothers step up to sell over 230 tickets! Our top seller again this year was Rob Wasik, Rob sold 50 tickets and he continues to support the council in so many ways, thank you Rob! Ryan Foley sold 24 tickets but the interesting thing to point out here, is that he sold 14 "e-Tickets". CharityMania provides a Website Template that we can customize with Council information and it allows people to safely support the Council by purchasing tickets online. Ryan sold tickets to family members across NJ and Maryland without ever leaving Mount Olive! This fundraiser really couldn't get much easier. The council profit this year was $3,200 down a little from $3,900 last year and that was due in part to the NFL strike, the economy didn't help us much either! However, that didn't stop us from paying out $1,600 in prize money, they say you got to be in it to win it! Yes... those of you not participating missed out on quite a bit!! As you can see in the "Prize Tracker" below, we had 2 $500 winners, 1 $200 winner and 1 $100 winner, how nice would it be to see your name there next year? I look forward to having more brothers participating next year. Thank you for all your support in this effort over the years!

Insurance Message

Tax Time Again

This month, I chose to pass up the opportunity to use the age-old cliché about two things we must do... although timing should certainly bring it to mind.

This season, in most homes, is financial accounting time. I'd like to wager that, at some point in the process, someone will ask (probably you!) "Where did all our money go? Surely, all of the money we earn finds a home somewhere... the grocer, the mortgage, the tax man. Very little, if any, is left over for a personal bank account or other investments. Most of us consider ourselves fortunate if we've managed to pay our bills! Folks usually save what's leftover... and for the most folks, that's nothing.

The point is, whatever the amount earned, chances are good that it is spent providing for and rearing a family. Think about that for a minute. The needs of that family continue – food, shelter, clothing, even if the breadwinner suffers an untimely death.

So what does income tax have to do with insurance? Simply this... it can serve as a reminder that protection for dependents should include an estimate of the current needs for money. While it may be convenient to say "I can't afford it," that's probably not accurate – when you consider that your family will be without any income should you die.

With this in mind, your Order has designed a plan which guarantees to continue income to your family for as long as they will need it. What's more, this plan will enable you to systematically save some of those dollars so difficult to account for at tax time.

This year, give a gift of security and protection. Please give me a call if you'd like more information. Call me today at (973) 579-7224 for an appointment. Call me – let's talk. I want to hear from you.

Council Magazine Fundraiser

Brothers,

By now most of you have heard about the new Magazine Fundraiser that Council 6100 is running in conjunction with St. Jude Parish. In these difficult economic times we have looked at many ways to minimize the impact on our community as we seek ways to raise funds. We think the Magazine Fundraiser is a very positive way to move forward quickly without asking anyone to spend one additional penny over what you may be currently spending.

The plan makes it is easy to participate. If you, your family or friends are already buying any magazines, by just renewing them through our program, 40% of the total cost will be returned to the Council.

All of this can be done on the internet without any paperwork. Just enter www.gsp.com/store/index.aspx and you will enter the QSP Magazine Store that contains over 700 of today's most popular magazines at prices that are most often lower than the publishers' offers. You can also enter through our website: www.kofc6100.org and clicking on the Magazine Program listed on our Home Page.

Also, you do not have to wait for your current subscriptions to expire. Just simply mark the order as a renewal and copy your name exactly as it appears on your current issues and your subscriptions will be automatically extended. Of course, you can purchase new subscriptions too!

Remember 40% of your total cost will be returned to the Council.

The success of this program relies on offering this opportunity to as many people as possible. Why not ask your family and friends to help, or consider asking your doctor or dentist who normally have tons of magazines. Tell them it will not cost them any additional money to be part of this worthy effort. Brother who do not have the opportunity to help with other fundraisers can easily help by simply forwarding this email to their friends.

This program is ongoing all year and you can renew your subscriptions at any time. Also, we will be sending email reminders periodically, so be on the lookout for them!

Thank you for your continued support. If you have any questions, you can contact the program chairman, Ernie DiCicco, or myself at dteller@optonline.net or dicicco-highfield@att.net

On The Lighter Side

My Favorite Animal

Our teacher asked what my favorite animal was, and I said, "Fried chicken." She said

I wasn't funny, but she couldn't have been right, because everyone else laughed.

My parents told me to always tell the truth. I did. Fried chicken is my favorite animal. I told my dad what happened, and he said my teacher was probably a member of PETA. He said they love animals very much. I do, too. Especially chicken, pork and beef. Anyway, my teacher sent me to the principal's office. I told him what happened, and he laughed, too. Then he told me not to do it again.

The next day in class my teacher asked me what my favorite live animal was. I told her it was chicken. She asked me why, so I told her it was because you could make them into fried chicken. She sent me back to the principal's office. He laughed, and told me not to do it again. I don't understand. My parents taught me to be honest, but my teacher doesn't like it when I am.

Today, my teacher asked me to tell her what famous person I admired most. I told her, "Colonel Sanders." Guess where I am now...

Other Council Activities

Bingo – Phil Graziano is the head of the Bingo Committee. The Council is still in dire need of a few 'Good Knights' to adequately staff our bingo teams. I hope the Council will help fill the voids now present on all bingo teams. If a few 'Good Knights' with nothing to do one Friday evening per month would volunteer their time between 6:30 PM and 11:30 PM (only five+ hours per month), we would be able to fully staff our four bingo teams. If you can not volunteer five hours per month, perhaps you could volunteer a few hours of your time per month. If you can volunteer in any way please call Phil at (908)979-3375 or e-mail: philgraz53@comcast.net.

The job entails shopping for the needs of the day, organizing the work schedule for the day and just getting the job done. If you can help in any way please let Tom know, (973-426-9394).
